Forest Fees of $686,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas has been mailed $686,000 by the Agriculture Department for the state's portion of fees collected for the use of federal land administered by the Forest Service.
The department said the turnover comes on fees paid for use of national forest land them white youths, some of them bearded and sandaled, some clean-cut.

Police arrested 267 youths. At least 300 demonstrators were injured, most of them from the police's clubs as the youths surged into police lines and attempted to storm the hotel.
For a short time, Hilton guests—including Mrs. Mc-Carthy—were virtual prisoners in the hotel. They were refused permission to leave by police as trash fires were set in Michigan Avenue just outside, police cars were stoned, and some hotel windows were broken by crowd pressure.

The estimated 3,000 protesters filled Michigan Avenue from sidewalk to sidewalk during the melee, blocking all traffic, taunting police with names, throwing an occasional rock or bottle, and refusing orders to disperse.
Police, after the original confrontation, beat and dragged the protesting youths into police vans.

Violence even invaded the hotel's red-carpeted lobby as police pursuing fleeing demonstrators fell upon an unidentified, long-haired newsman. He was beaten and dragged through the lobby door.

He was released at the insistence of two Columbia Broadcasting System executives, and taken to an aid station set up by supporters of McCarthy on the hotel's 15th floor.
Sidney Lens, a demonstration leader, said 15 of the injured remained at the hotel because "the cops are arresting anyone with a bandage."
McCarthy's 13-year-old daughter, Margaret, rolled bandages for a time, and McCarthy came down briefly to talk with several injured persons.
Much of the hours-long confrontation appeared to be a stand-off with a double line of police stretching from sidewalk to sidewalk and backed by a double line of rifle-carrying National Guardsmen facing an equal number of demonstrators who sat or stood in the street, milling and singing an occasional song.

30 Patients
Are Moved

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—About 30 patients at the State Hospital have been moved from one dormitory to another after agair-conditioning systems in two buildings quit operating.

Dr. George W. Jackson, superintendent of the hospital, said the 30 were moved because it was feared they might be affected by the heat.

Consultant for Welfare Eliminated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State
Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock said Wednesday that the department's $500-a-month dental consultant's position was one that involved "almost no duty."

Dr. W.R. Aistadt of Little Rock was dismissed by Blaylock Wednesday and the commissioner said Aistadt had received almost $43,000 in seven years in the job.
"I don't see how he could expect the public to feel sorry for him," Blaylock said.

Asked why the position weren't abolished if it required little work, Blaylock replied,
"We're considering that."
Marion Burton, executive secretary to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, had said earlier in the day that the administration believed the position should be rotated and not held by one person.

Blaylock said he had no criticism of Aistadt's work but "it seems very reasonable to allow other people to have it."
Blaylock notified Aistadt by letter that he was being relieved of the job effective Sept. 1.

Aistadt said he believed other factors were involved in his dismissal and that these would be brought out later.

Aistadt said he hadn't sought the position and "I have not sought to keep it and I'm not going to carry the favor of the governor or his lieutenants to retain it."

He said he contributed $500 to Rockefeller's campaign two years ago and had given a $100 contribution to this year's Democratic nominee, Marion H.
Crank.

Aistadt said he didn't know whether this donation had anything to do with his dismissal.

WAR POLICY

Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, another contender for the presidential nomination and a strong supporter of the peace movement, also said he does not accept the plank adopted but would campaign for the party nominee.

McGovern said the pro-Humphrey plank has room for some interpretation and he hopes the nominee will use the leeway in the direction of peace.

The debate that led up to the motion-packed roll call Wednesday reviewed the whole months-long controversy over Vietnam. Proponents of the minority plank argued the party should recognize a mistake was made and correct it. Opponents said adoption of the far-reaching peace plank, without the safeguards of the majority version, would be a disaster for all Southeast Asia.

Proponents said their version would free U.S. policy from dictation by the Saigon government; opponents said it would impose a coalition rule, including representation of the political arm of the Viet Cong, without giving the South Vietnamese a chance to choose in free elections.

Platform Chairman Rep. Hale Boggs unveiled an estimate by Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S.
commander in South Vietnam, for his final speech in support of the Humphrey plank approved by the committee.

Abrams told him, he said, that suspension of bombing would mean that the enemy could develop in the demilitarized zone a fivefold combat capacity within a week or 10 days.

V. PRESIDENT

lied at the convention's final session tonight, when President Johnson is expected to make his only appearance.

Johnson's prompt response to Humphrey's victory, in a statement released at his Texas ranch, was that the party had nominated "an excellent and an especially well-qualified candidate." He expressed hope that all Democrats would "unite behind him and move forward to victory in the election."

But the degree of unity remained in question. Although the nomination was made unanimously by motion of Illinois State Chairman James E. Ronan, neither McCarthy nor McGovern came before the convention in the usual custom to pledge active allegiance.

McCarthy telephoned his congratulations to Humphrey but told a news conference it is "still an open question" whether he will campaign for the vice president or even support the latter's presidential bid. He said he will not run as a separate party candidate.

Rising Star of Another Kennedy

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The rising star of another Kennedy blazed brightly on Democratic horizons today despite the last brother's refusal to be drawn into the White House fray this year.

Many politicians feel Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's rejection of the draft movement that bubbled up at the Democratic National Convention this week only postponed his presidential nomination until 1972 or 1976—depending on which way the party's fortunes flow this fall.

With Vice President Hubert
H. Humphrey's first-ballot victory crushing the challenges of war critics Sens. Eugene J.
McCarthy and George S. Mc-Govern, the Kennedy banner was practically the only place Democratic dissidents could go.
Many went quickly.

"I think he is the hope of the Democratic party," said California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, who had flirted with the draft movement until Kennedy killed it hours before the convention chose Humphrey Wednesday night.

McCarthy revealed he had offered to throw all his support behind the 36-year-old Kennedy to try to deny the nomination to Humphrey because of the Vietnam war issue.

The Minnesota senator said,
"If Ted had a better chance of stopping it, I'd support him on the first ballot and not even make a run for it."

McGovern also said he'd back Kennedy if he were asked, but Kennedy said he could not accept the nomination "for personal and family reasons" and asked delegates to drop the draft effort.

Convention Chairman Rep.
Carl Albert of Oklahoma read a telegram Kennedy had sent.

Kennedy wired, "I am deeply grateful to those who have expressed their confidence in me and are interested in placing my name before this convention, but I respectfully request that the nomination be withdrawn."

Kennedy's name wasn't entered, but he got 12 1/2 votes as a tribute anyway.
California raised placards promoting Kennedy for 1972.
Unruh said his national status
"is sky high at this point."

The youngest brother, last heir to a legacy of leadership, was thrust into the swirl of presidential speculation by the assassin's bullets that ended the candidacy of Sen. Robert F.
Kennedy just five years after President John F. Kennedy was slain by a sniper.

lease of all persons arrested under the occupation, freedom for all government organs and

The secretly printed Literarni

weekly, declared: "We are free.
Let us remain free. If anyone wants to put us on our knees let us make it as hard as possible for him! Only potential murderers can be friendly with murderers."

Travelers from northern Bohemia said anti-Soviet demonstrators had torn down a Soviet tank from its place on a war memorial and hanged an effigy of a Soviet soldier. In one area, they said, gypsies dismantled antennas and other parts of Soviet tanks while other persons engaged the crews in conversation.

But public displays of resistance appeared to be subsiding in Prague. Blaring asto horns had signaled short strikes Monday and Tuesday, but there were no work stoppages Wednesday. A demonstration planned by students Wednesday night was canceled at the request of National Assembly President Joseph Smrkovsky.

U.S. headquarters reported

Last week's toll was more than double that of the week before, 2,129, according to revised fig-soldiers killed in action last week, their heaviest loss since 675 were slain during the week ending May 11, at the height of the Communist's second offen-

Another 1,833 government troops were wounded last week and 49 were missing.

The report raised the number of Americans killed in combat

The report said the state

Enemy troops reported killed by allied forces during the same period now total 385,055, by U.S.
count.

U.S. headquarters also reported that American troop strength dropped 3,500 last week, from 543,000 the previous week to 539,500. A U.S. spokesman said this was mainly because of a

Man Kidnaps Banker's Son in California

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Writer
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — A man posing as an electrician kidnaped the 4-year-old son of a Beverly Hills banker, and police searching for the boy said today there are similarities to an unsolved abduction one year ago.

"I'll contact your husband later, I want $250,000 in $20 bills," the mother of Stanley Stalford Jr. quoted his abductor as saying.

The man, wearing a hard hat and blue work clothes, fled in the family's new auto. Police said they found the abandoned auto seven hours later but would give no details.

Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson said "there are similarities" between the Stalford abduction and the kidnaping of Kenneth Young, 11, in April 1967.

Kenneth, son of Herbert Young, president of a savings and loan association, was released unharmed after three days when his father paid $250,000 ransom. He lives 4 1/2 blocks from the Stalfords.

Both boys were kidnaped during the day. Both fathers are civic leaders.

Three File for Delegate Posts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three persons filed Monday for the positions of delegates to the proposed state constitutional convention. Delegates will be selected in the Nov. 5 general election as voters decide whether to hold a convention next year.

Those who filed Monday were Frank Gamble of DeQueen for the position in House District 30, which is Sevier and Little River counties; Herbert B. Wren of Texarkana for Position 2, District 38, which is Miller County; and Nick Wilson of Pocahontas for Position 2, District 6, which is Randolph and Clay counties.

"anxious to pay off the ransom," Anderson said. But police said they knew of no ransom call.

A visitor to the Stalfords' $90,000 home, who wouldn't give his name, said the boy's father and mother, Joanne, were "just sitting by the telephone waiting for a call."

The boy's father was at work when the youngster was kidnaped.

Stalford's first wife was Lorraine Allen, an actress once married to bandleader Xavier Cugat. She won a $500,000 settlement when she divorced Stalford in 1960.

between police and youthful demonstrators and repeated uproars within the convention itself.

Shriver, 52, has never held elective office although he was mentioned for both senatorial and gubernatorial contests in Illinois this year.

After failing to be named for either, he resigned as head of the federal antipoverty program and was named ambassador to France.

Before coming to Washington to head the Peace Corps in the Kennedy administration, Shriver was president of the Chicago Board of Education.

Muskie, whose experience includes state legislative service, spent four years as governor of Maine before election to the Senate in 1958.

He has handled key legislation on urban development and environmental pollution and is considered a future Senate floor leader.

The other four men mentioned Wednesday by Sherman as vice presidential contenders included Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco and former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina.

Besides Harris, who is 37, all of the contenders are in their 50s.

Dorothy Stuck, editor of the Marked Tree Tribune, was a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Miami Beach earlier this month.

In her paper, she remarked on what she observed.

"My friends along the Main Stem are divided into the I saw you's and I didn't see you's this week," she said. "It just didn't seem to be in the cards for this unminiskirted, country editor to get full political convention TV coverage this time around."

"But lots of folks know about Marked Tree who didn't know before and seemed quite willing to take my word for the fact that it was one of the finest small communities going," she said.

She also said that "if you think everyone talks and no one listens at a political convention, you are just about right."

She also said she is not sure that the national political nominating convention is going to survive the next generation's candid approach to life.

Will Giving Cude Family Land Upheld

MENA, Ark. (AP) — A will which named three members of the Archie Cude family as beneficiaries has been upheld by Chancellor Willis B. Smith of Texarkana.

Mrs. Rose N. Gordon's will had been contested by three persons, Mrs. Ida Hiller of Amelia, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Sarver of San Diego, set in 1966.

Beebe and Suggs said they "worked him up five times" before finally boating him.

Calif. Mrs. Hiller was the sister of Mrs. Gordon, who died in April.

The Cudes became a controversial family several years ago when Cude refused on religious grounds to permit his children to be vaccinated in order to attend public schools.

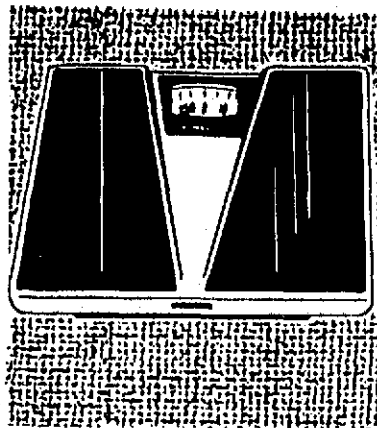

Mrs. Gordon named Clark Cude, 19, and Wayne Cude, 17, as beneficiaries of her 80-acre farm, the farm machinery and equipment, household furnishings and two motor vehicles. Archie Cude was given a car.

The contestants claimed Cude had exercised undue influence over Mrs. Gordon.

McLain Wins 26th for Detroit

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Washington worm, creeping quietly along the bottom of the American League, has quite suddenly turned on Baltimore's ambitious Orioles.

All season long the Senators had been marvelously cooperative with the Orioles, playing Baltimore 12 times and losing 12 times. That's a perfect record in reverse.

Now, with the Birds making a run at Detroit's front-running Tigers, the Senators have cast their negative vote.

While Detroit's Denny McLain was winning his 26th game Wednesday night, beating California 6-1, Washington beat Baltimore for the first time all year. Frank Howard's 37th homer game the Senators a 3-2 victory and dropped the Orioles five games off the Tigers' pace.

In other American League games, Chicago shut out New York 3-0, Oakland dropped Boston 5-3 and Cleveland nipped Minnesota 3-2.

In the National League, San Francisco topped Houston 4-3, St. Louis blanked Pittsburgh 8-0, Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from New York 8-3 and 5-2, Atlanta took a pair from Philadelphia 9-2 and 2-1 and Chicago and Los Angeles split a doubleheader, the Cubs taking the opener 7-4 and the Dodgers the nightcap 6-4.

Howard connected against Jim Hardin, 17-9, in the fourth inning after Bernie Allen's single had tied the score for Washington.

All night long, it looked like the Orioles would bust loose against Jim Hannan, 8-3, but they never did.

Baltimore managed only one run in the second on Larry Haney's triple after Brooks Robinson and Dave Johnson had opened with singles. Robinson was thrown out trying to advance on a fly ball.

The Orioles loaded the bases in the fourth with one out but failed to score and a double play rescued Hannan in the eighth after a double by Frank Robinson and Boog Powell's single produced another run.

McLain became the first AL pitcher to win 26 since Bob Feller and Hal Newhouser did it in 1946 and ended a two-game personal losing streak by beating the Angels.

Bill Freehan had a two-run homer and Jim Northrup a three-run shot for the Tigers, who managed their second victory in the last seven starts.

Rookie Jerry Nymann, making his first major league start for Chicago, shut out the Yankees on four hits and started a three-run rally with a third inning single.

Tommy Davis, Tom McCraw and Walt Williams all drilled run-scoring singles against loser Mel Stottlemyre, 17-11, and Nymann cruised along, allowing only two runners to reach second base. He struck out five and walked three.

Mike Hershberger and Dave Duncan cracked eighth inning homers, snapping a tie and carrying Oakland past Boston. The A's had rallied for two runs in the seventh on Duncan's pinch walk, a wild pitch, a single by Bert Campaneris and Sal Bando's triple.

Carl Yastrzemski tagged a two-run homer for the Red Sox. Jose Cardenal drove in a pair of runs and Cleveland edged Minnesota with Vicente Romo gaining credit for the victory in relief of starter Luis Tiant.

Tiant, the Indians' 18-game winner, strained his right arm and had to leave the game after five innings. He is expected to

Couple of River Rats to Compete

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mexico City can count on a pair of River Rats causing plenty of excitement in October when the fastest U.S. women's swimming team in history competes in the 1968 Olympic Games.

Leading the freestyle contingent are Debbie Meyer and Sue Pedersen, both students at Rio Americano High School in Sacramento.

"Our real school nickname is the Panthers, but everybody calls us the River Rats," laughed slim and pretty Debbie, who raced to her third world record of the women's Olympic trials Wednesday.

The 16-year-old not only smashed her own world record once, she did it twice, winning the finals in 9 minutes 10.4 seconds, a full 12 seconds under her official world mark.

Patty Carretto of Long Beach, Calif., was second in 9:18.5, and Pam Kruse, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., third, 9:20.8.

In qualifying, Debbie had clocked 9:16.4 for the metric half mile, final event on the five-day program. The 5-foot-7, 118-pound blue-eyed blonde previously had established the world's best of 2:06.7 in the 200 freestyle and 4:24.6 in the 400.

All in all, the amazing teenagers smashed seven world records of the 12 Olympic events on the program. The American record fell plus one American citizens mark.

Miss Pedersen set one of the American records with a 59.0 in the 100-meter freestyle.

Record breakers in the spirited competition at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium all were teen-agers.

Claudia Kolb, 18, of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club, set two world marks and so did Claudia Ball who'll celebrate her 17th birthday during the Games.

Claudia clocked 2:23.6 in the 200-meter individual medley and 5:04.7 for the 400-meter of the same race.

Miss Ball, from Jacksonville, Fla., won both backstroke events with record times of 1:14.3 and 2:38.5 for the 100 and 200 meters respectively.

Although in most cases, only the top three in each event are named to the squad, the first five in that race make it. Developments will tell who'll race in the Olympics but the team needs four for the 400-meter relay.

Thus Jane Barkman of Philadelphia and Cathy Corcione of Long Branch, N.J., get to go. Their 100-meter times of 59.63 and 1:00.45 would have won most meets.

Miss at least one pitching run, Cardenal's sixth-inning single drove in the Indians' winning run. He had singled another run across in the fourth.

Gibson Gets Revenge Over Pirates

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Gibson is not the type of guy to hold a grudge, but you'd never know it the way he treated the Pittsburgh Pirates only four days after they turned on him.

Pittsburgh, after scoring only one run in two losses to Gibson, ruined his 15-game winning streak last Saturday by scoring two unearned runs in the ninth inning.

The fireballing St. Louis Cardinals right-hander didn't forget that disappointment, about the only one he has had in a sensational season. Wednesday night, he got his revenge.

Gibson made the Pirates his 11th shutout victim this season by cutting them down four hits and striking out 14 as the Cardinals romped to an 8-0 victory.

His latest sparkler, raising his record to 19-5, also put Gibson back on the road toward the Cy Young Award and ended the Cardinals' brief spin en route to their second consecutive pennant.

The Cardinals' distance from the rest of the league stood at 11 games over Cincinnati and San Francisco after the Reds swept the New York Mets 8-3 and 5-2 in a two-night doubleheader and the Giants nudged Houston 4-3 in the afternoon.

Atlanta won a two-nighter from Philadelphia 9-2 and 2-1 and the Chicago Cubs beat Los Angeles 7-4 before losing 8-4 in another two-night twinnish.

In the American League Detroit blasted California 6-1, Washington upended Baltimore 3-2, Oakland tumbled Boston 5-3, Cleveland downed Minnesota 3-2 and the Chicago White Sox stomped the New York Yankees 3-0.

Gibson, so outstanding that he is making his 20- and 21-victory years of 1965 and 1966 look like bad seasons, was the master again as the Pirates bowed to him. They never got a runner past second base. He issued two of his three walks to open the fifth, but then struck out the side.

The shutout gave him the St. Louis club record for shutouts breaking Mort Cooper's mark of 10 in one season.

Gibson also capped a five-run fourth inning with a two-run single. Orlando Cepeda hammered his 14th homer for the first three runs off Bob Veal, 10-13. Cepeda singled in another run in the sixth and Julian Javier stroked his second homer in the eighth as the Cardinals came to life after two straight shut out losses.

Cincinnati moved one percentage point ahead of the Giants as Gerry Arrigo scattered eight hits behind a 15-hit attack in the opener and Gary Nolan cracked a two-run double and teamed with Clay Carroll on a five-hit in the nightcap.

Don Cardwell had retired the first 13 Reds in the second game and led 1-0 before Nolan capped a three-run uprising in the fifth inning with his double. He gave up only three hits before leaving in the eighth, leaving Carroll to protect his seventh consecutive victory over the Mets.

After Ray Sadecki had given Houston three runs by walking in one run and wild pitching two others home in the fourth, the Astros gave the Giants the winner in the ninth when Jim Hart's infield hit and three walks forced in the run.

Atlanta unloaded 19 hits against the Phillies in their fifth in that race make it. Developments will tell who'll race in the Olympics but the team needs four for the 400-meter relay.

Aaron, playing first base in the nightcap for the first time in his major league career, hit his 25th homer for a 1-1 tie and then Johnson singled in Alou with the winning run in the eighth inning. Pat Jarvis, 14-9, got the victory with a three-hitter.

Ernie Banks keyed a six-run Cubs' uprising in the first inning of the first game with a two-run single, but the Dodgers scored six runs of their own in the eighth inning of the nightcap to overcome a 4-2 deficit. Ken Boyer struck the big blow, a pinch three-run double for a 6-4 lead.

It Started with 'Sinatra'

NEW YORK (NEA)—Frank Sinatra is the correspondent in this case, the little old homebreaker in the ring-a-ding divorce of the tournament players and the Professional Golfers Association. Frankie didn't even croon a note or flick a wisp of his hairpiece to get the action started.

It was less than a year ago this time, however, that he was willing to put up a couple of hundred grand for the privilege of having a golf tournament all his own—like Bing and Bob and even that young whippersnapper, Andy Williams.

The golfers were delighted—200,000 simoleons buys a lot of flax slacks. Their tournament committee—the four players appointed to help run their affairs under the watchful eye of the PGA—agreed to a Frank Sinatra Open.

There was, however, a conflict of dates. The Bob Hope Classic would interfere. So the PGA executive committee overruled the golfers and Sinatra was left without a dalliance, golf-wise, and the tournament pros were left with red necks.

"It showed us correctly for the first time," says one respected player, "that we couldn't run our own affairs effectively, that the PGA's power of veto on all tournament matters was a noose over our heads."

There were, of course, other little acts by the PGA which led to the recent ultimate break. Chief among them was the PGA's retention, on a renewed three-year contract, of Bob Creasey as their $50,000-a-year executive director.

"It was in effect," says the same respected player, "a slap in our faces. They know we don't like Creasey. He's the man who negotiates all the contracts for the PGA. He does it on his own, without asking us."

Creasey's also the man who tried to introduce a new tournament entry form last winter which would have made the players give up all television rights. When they rebelled, the new form was withdrawn.

The players also feel that Creasey was the man behind PGA President Max Elbin's decision at the Akron summit meeting to ignore a tentative agreement reached by the lawyers for the respective groups to settle their differences.

That's when the players made their move to secede and form the new APG (American Professional Golfers).

The players had been irked by attempts of the PGA executives to infringe on the actual conduct of their tournaments. "They were supposed to restrict themselves to policy matters," says Frank Beard, who had been on the players' tournament committee. "But when they tried, for instance, to enforce a continuous putting rule (note: the pros successfully beat the PGA down on that, too), that's getting involved in tournament matters."

"They say they're going to be friendly and try to get along with us, even now," continues Beard. "But they've broken their word every other time."

And what has all this got to do with the future course of the game? "Not a damn thing," insists Bob Gorham, the field press secretary of the PGA. "It's like two studios fighting over a blonde starlet. The public doesn't care which gets her, as long as they continue to see the product."

Jets Become Giants of Their League

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP)—The New York Jets fast are becoming the San Francisco Giants of football.

Until the power-laden St. Louis Cardinals came along, the Giants seemed to be given the best chance to win the National League pennant each year. They frequently came close but always managed to find a way to miss out.

For the past couple of seasons, the Jets have been considered the team most likely in the American Football League's Eastern Division, primarily because of Joe Namath. But each time they have failed to wind up on top.

Take 1966, for example. The Jets started out well, winning four and tying one of their first five games. They finished the season 6-6-2.

Last year Weeb Ewbank's forces were 5-1-1, then 7-2-1. Then they lost their next three games, and Houston wound up on top.

The Jets again are considered a leading contender, and they firmly believe the outcome will be different this time.

"A year ago we coaches thought we could do it," Ewbank said, "but convincing young men—that's something else. But when we came so close everyone was kicking themselves. They realized they should've believed it in training camp. I think they're confident now."

They would be more confident, though, if they knew how Emerson Boozer's knee will stand up during the season. Boozer was one of the most brilliant backs in the league for the first eight games in 1967, scoring 13 touchdowns.

Then he tore knee ligaments and still is recovering from an off-season operation. The Jets hoped the halfback would be ready by the start of the season, but a month in the National Guard cost him the first few weeks of training camp.

Now he's working out on the sidelines, and the Jets can only hope he'll be able to play by Sept. 15.

Billy Mathis has been playing in his spot, but Mathis is no Boozer. The Jets are better off at fullback where Matt Snell is attempting a comeback from torn knee cartilage. If Snell doesn't make it, though, the Jets have rookie Lee White of Weber State who has looked good.

The running attack, of course, is what the Jets must come up with if they are to reach the top. In Namath, they have all the passing punch they need.

The long-haired quarterback passed for a pro record 4,007 yards last season, most of them to George Sauer, Don Maynard and Pete Lammons.

Namath has his usual knee problem—his left knee was operated on—but his arm always seems to overcome the adversity.

While worrying about Boozer's and Namath's knees, though, the Jets also must be concerned with their defense, which allowed 329 points last year, only 42 less than the offense scored.

The soundest segment of the defense is the linebacking trio of Larry Grantham, Al Atkinson and Ralph Baker while Gerry Philbin is a top end.

What the Jets need is a major comeback from end Vernon Biggs and a minor one from tackle Paul Rochester plus a strong showing from tackle John Elliott.

Negro Teachers Plan Drive

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas (Negro) Teachers Association says it will conduct an intensive membership drive this year even though it is scheduled to merge with the predominantly white Arkansas Education Association next July.

ATA officials said, "The only guarantees of representation in the merger agreement are those for Negro teachers who are members of the ATA at the time of merger."

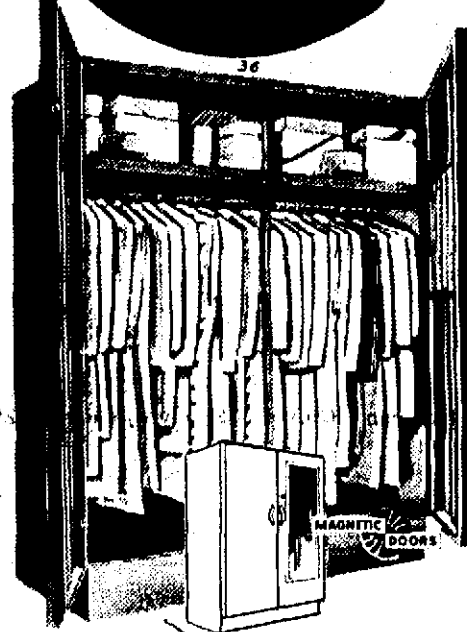

DARING DECOLLETAGE appeared at a London showing of a printed satin three-piece suit from Ossie Clark's autumn collection.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! in this newspaper.

GREAT ACHES FROM LITTLE ACCUSATIONS GROW

Dear Helen: Last summer I went to my aunt and uncle's farm for a weekend. On the first day, I was accused of stealing 50 cents. The second day they left me alone for four hours and told me to put the money back and they'd say no more about it. You see, my aunt went through my suitcase and found 50 cents, but when I told her my sister gave it to me, she wouldn't believe me. I didn't put the money where she told me to because it was mine.

The third day they brought me home, after taking the 50 cents from my suitcase. They asked my sister if she had given it to me, and seemed to accept it when she said yes. When my parents got home that night, they called my uncle to see what was the trouble. My aunt got mad and said she didn't believe my sister or me, and also called my mother a liar. It's been a year and they haven't said they were sorry. They have also been very mean to other relatives. Should I just pretend I don't have an aunt and uncle?—NON-THIEF

Dear Non: This would be the easy way—and I can't say I'd blame you. But then you'll always get that broody twinge when you hear their names. It's no fun carrying a grudge all your life—especially when it's over something as small as a 50-cent piece.

So do yourself a favor and write your aunt and uncle a letter. Make it friendly and casual, and at the end say, "Let's forget about last summer, shall we?"

If you don't get a relieved and apologetic reply—well, at least you'll feel better for having tried, and you can scratch these relatives off your list without feeling guilty about it.—H

Dear Helen: I'm 17 and afraid of boys. If one comes near me I feel like I'm going to be sick. When one accidentally bumps into me or touches me, I freeze and shiver. I've never told anyone about this before.

When I was seven years old, I was molested by a man. Could this be causing me to hate males?—LONELY

Dear Lonely: Of course it could, but you can overcome your fear if you talk it out with an expert counselor. Now that you've taken the first step—putting your problem down on paper—the next won't be nearly as hard. Show your parents this column, and ask them to make an appointment for you with the Family Service Agency, or consulting psychologist.

You'll learn right away that you aren't alone—many girls have your kind of hang-up—and that in itself is half the battle won.—H

Dear Helen: You said you didn't know what a virgin pin was. It's just a little round circle pin and can be worn by anyone. When I was in school the fad was if you wore it on the left side, you were a virgin on the right, you weren't, and in the center, you were a "come and get me girl."

The fad didn't last very long!—FAITHFUL READER

Dear Helen: I agree with most of the answer "Concerned Girl" gave about making-out before you're old enough to know what it's all about. But I disagree when she says "guys will be guys" as if they ALL will try. It isn't true!

I'm an 18-year-old male. When I date, I very much want the trust of the girl and of her parents. When I kiss a girl, it is with respect and honor, as I feel it is a boy's obligation to protect a girl's virtue—and it's the girls' obligation to go out with the fellow who will do so.—CONCERNED GUY

Dear G.: Atta boy, guy! Luv ya.—H

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Castel Sant' Angelo, which stands on the right bank of the Tiber in the heart of Rome, was originally built as a mausoleum by Emperor Hadrian about A.D. 135. The World Almanac says. Today, the castle is a museum, having served through the centuries as a fortress, prison and a haven for the popes.

ANNUAL WALK across "Mighty Mac," Michigan's longest bridge, will take place again this Labor Day. For the 11th year, the tramp of feet will drown out the swish of automobile tires on the huge four-lane structure stretching five miles across the Straits of Mackinac, connecting Mackinaw City and St. Ignace. Two lanes are closed to vehicles for the traditional walk, which is the only time of the year when the bridge is open to foot traffic.

Up From the Deep

To bring deep-water fish to the surface alive is a problem because fish, like men, actually get the "bends" from being brought up too fast. California's Marineland of the Pacific found a solution through the use of a decompression chamber. Specimens taken at depths below 300 feet have been brought up successfully. At right, crewmen swing the fish decompression chamber over the side for lowering to the ocean floor where divers, below, fill it with rare denizens of the deep. After filling, chamber is sealed and hoisted aboard ship where fish will be programmed according to standard Navy decompression table for men. Fish are removed from chamber, bottom right, after they have been brought gradually to surface pressure.

In modern bidding, the new suit response at the two level shows at least 11 points and promises a further bid over any new suit bid by the opening bidder. Therefore, North felt that his best rebid would be three diamonds. He didn't care how high his partner might take him, since he could always go back to hearts at the same level. When South rebid his hearts, North decided to take the bull by the horns and put South in six after using Blackwood.

It was imaginative bidding and also good bidding and the slam should have been made but South overlooked what should have been an automatic play in the trump suit.

West opened the king of clubs and continued the suit. South was careful to ruff with the eight of trumps, just in case West had an eight-card club suit, but his next play sent the slam into never-never land. He led the four of hearts to his queen.

West showed out and South had to do something about that jack of trumps. He returned to dummy with a spade and led the nine of hearts but East was ready to cover with the jack. South led back to dummy's 10 of hearts and tried to make the hand by running spades but East scooped that by ruffing the second one.

If South had just led the nine or 10 of hearts instead of the four, he would have come dashing home. He could have led a spade to dummy's ace and played the nine. East would cover and South would return to dummy with the ace of diamonds and finesse against the seven of trumps.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Compulsive Gambler Needs Psychiatric Help
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

That there is a clear difference between social gambling and compulsive gambling is well-established. In any gambling situation, however, there is a cycle of emotional reactions. Making a bet is followed by anxiety and excited anticipation of the result. The outcome brings a certain emotional release of either joy or grief and this is often out of all proportion to the amount of money at stake.

Underneath all gambling there is an ostensible desire to prey on another person. For every winner there must be a loser. This spirit finds expression in such phrases as "to make a killing" and "to annihilate" one's opponent. But with the compulsive gambler, any money he may win burns a hole in his pocket. It is a case of "easy come—easy go" and, if he doesn't spend his winnings foolishly, he will merely keep on playing until he loses. When this happens, his stated belief that he will win it all back doesn't fool anyone and deep in his subconscious mind it doesn't fool him, either.

Likewise, when a compulsive gambler vows that he is through with gambling forever, he is only kidding himself. His whole attitude toward gambling is both neurotic and infantile. Closely associated with his neurotic pattern is an inability to make a satisfactory marriage. Some authorities go so far as to say that compulsive gambling and marriage are completely incompatible. Hence the truth of the expression, "Lucky at cards, unlucky in love." If, however, a spouse ridicules, scolds or makes threats of separation or divorce, this only increases the gambler's urge to continue to gamble.

Characteristically, a compulsive gambler will deny that he is sick and needs treatment. But only when he recognizes that he cannot control his gambling unaided is there any chance that he can be helped. He may need expert psychiatric guidance or he may find the answer to his problem in joining Gamblers Anonymous, a self-help organization with chapters in most large cities. Members work in much the same way as members of Alcoholics Anonymous. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Eisenhower Taken Off Critical List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors have taken Dwight D. Eisenhower off the critical list but still describe the outlook for full recovery from repeated heart attacks as uncertain.

The former president and World War II commander had been listed as critical since suffering his seventh heart attack Aug. 16.

Doctors, reporting Eisenhower has gone four days without major heart irritability, said Wednesday "we no longer view the immediate situation as critical but still view the over-all disease as serious."

But doctors say they can't tell yet whether Eisenhower, 77, will be able to return to his normal active life.

He had returned from a round of golf in Palm Springs, Calif., April 29 when he suffered the first of the four heart attacks which have kept him virtually bedridden for four months.

"Because of the extent of Gen. Eisenhower's underlying coronary artery disease, his present condition must still be considered serious, albeit not necessarily critical at this time," said the afternoon medical bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital.

"The long range outlook is still guarded and the potential for sudden reversal of the current favorable trend is ever present," it added.

The general's latest trouble stemmed from spurts of ineffective heart fluttering called ventricular fibrillation, interspersed with irregular spasms called heart irritability.

The doctors said Wednesday he showed "some further decrease" in the irritability. The day before doctors had expressed "cautious optimism" over Eisenhower's condition.

Even before Eisenhower was taken off the critical list his son, John, and family returned to their home in Phoenixville, Pa., John Eisenhower and the former president's wife, Mamie, were at his side frequently during the critical period.

"Mrs. Eisenhower continues to visit the general for short periods frequently," said the doctors.

Safety Law Enforcement

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Strict enforcement of the state's safety laws was ordered Tuesday by Labor Commissioner Dotson Collins.

Collins said he was ordering the Division of Industrial and Mine Safety to see that flagrant violations of safety laws, codes and rules be thoroughly investigated.

"The number of disabling injuries and deaths in industry in the state due to a lack of active and effective safety programs along with a disregard for the safety laws" concerns him, Collins said.

Poll Showed Outcome Correctly

CHICAGO (AP) — The Associated Press survey of first ballot strength at the Democratic National Convention came within 3.5 per cent of Hubert H. Humphrey's winning total despite the fact that nearly 100 delegates sat on the fence until voting started.

The final AP delegate count, based on primary results, public pledges and checks with delegates and caucus es, put Humphrey's solid first ballot strength at 1,669 just 20 minutes before voting started.

The vice president's winning total, announced by Convention Chairman Carl B. Albert, was 1,761 3/4, a difference of 92 3/4 or 3.5 per cent of the 2,622 convention votes.

Of the 55 delegations, the AP poll was exactly right on Humphrey's total in 23, one-half vote off on seven and one vote off on another seven. It was more than five off on just three delegations.

Washington, Mississippi and North Carolina.

In Wisconsin, six of eight delegates bound by state law to vote for President Johnson cast their ballots instead for Humphrey.

Mississippi, whose 24-vote delegation refused to take a stand before the balloting, ended up giving the vice president 9 1/2 votes. And North Carolina, which had planned to stay with favorite son Gov. Dan K. Moore through the first ballot, was released at the last moment and cast 44 1/2 of its 59 votes for Humphrey.

The last AP count showed 99 1/2 delegates still uncommitted. Besides the 24 from Mississippi, the largest other block was 20 1/2 from Georgia, State Rep. Julian Bond's loyalist group which also declined to take a stand. The others were scattered.

Counts in at least three states — Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi — were hampered by the fact that the makeup of the delegations was in flux due to credentials challenges.

The final AP count on Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy was 606 3/4, just 5 1/4 more than his actual vote. Sen. George S. McGovern polled 146 1/2, 20 above the AP tally. AP checks failed to discern the extent of a last minute swing among Negro delegates to the Rev. Channing E. Phillips, who polled 67 1/2 votes, many from delegates who had listed other choices.

The large number of delegates, more than 3,000 compared with 1,333 at the Republican National Convention, and the many fractional votes also

Forestry Is Important to Economy

By: BUSTER A. DENTON

Arkansas Forestry Commission

Since the arrival of the first settlers, our economy has been anchored to our forest resources. Our first settlers were seeking a by product of the forest. They were hunters and trappers. The hills and valleys of Arkansas abounded in wild life. De Sota looked out over the forests and said, "Wonder of wonders!" From that day to the present, man and the forest have marched hand in hand with Arkansas forest economy.

The tree and the forest are the same. Today mankind has continued to learn new ways to process the wood from the forest.

The log cabin, hewn from the rough tree, was a mansion one day. Today man can still construct a modern mansion from the tree. He has learned to develop and manufacture the finest building materials in the world from the tree.

So the forest continues to grow and mankind continues to find new uses for wood. This is a never ending process of progress.

Just as the early forest furnished by products useful to man, the forest of today continues to do its part in developing the tourist industry. Our many beautiful mountains and valleys which attract the visitor's eye are clothed in a green coat of trees. What would our beautiful lakes look like without trees?

Every morning our great wood-using industries sound their whistles—calling thousands of people to work. Soon the hum of wheels, singing of saws, and the clanging of cash registers are heard. You know money is on the move because trees are being manufactured into useful products.

Yes, Arkansas's forest economy is perpetual because we have a good forest protection, utilization, and management plan which insures the future that our forest economy can be permanent. It, therefore, becomes our civic duty and moral pride to do whatever we can to protect and promote our forests.

Your Arkansas Forestry Commission is dedicated to this task.

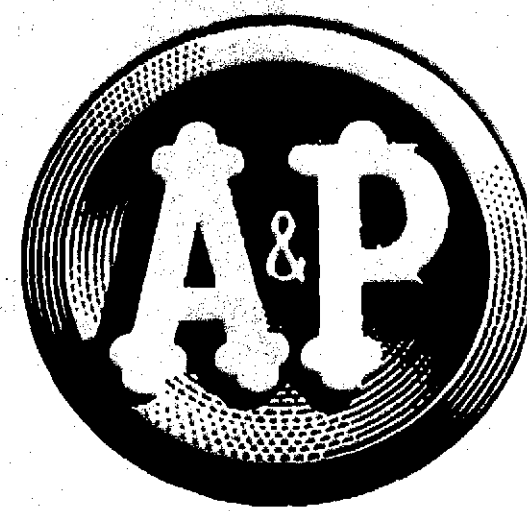

Convention Highlights at Glance

Nominee: Democratic National Convention delegates nominated Hubert H. Humphrey as their presidential candidate on the first ballot Wednesday night.

Platform: After a vigorous two-hour debate, a minority peace plank calling for an immediate end to the bombing in North Vietnam was defeated 1,567 3/4 to 1,041 1/4. Then the entire platform was approved.

Demonstrations— Hundreds of demonstrators were beaten and arrested as police scatter more than 2,000 protesting anti-war youths who tried to launch a march to the site of the Democratic National Convention, hampered reporters making the tallies.

time-honored weapons and wiles of the successful politician.

He had no money, no name, no political base, no organization, no influential support.

So he lost, in the conventional sense of the word, in that he failed to win his party's presidential nomination.

But McCarthy won something, too—especially in the light of the rather limited goal he set for himself when he announced his candidacy nine months ago. Then, it was merely to take the war in Vietnam before the American people, personified in a candidate, to allow those people a vote on that war.

Eugene Joseph McCarthy also won his race, in the sense that American politics may never be the same after the romantic adventure that began so quietly in the New Hampshire snow last winter.

His young supporters, although looking Wednesday night as if the world had just ended, are also taking heart from some of the battles won by McCarthy on his way to losing the war.

He spread throughout the land a new belief that housewives, clerks and college kids—thousands and thousands of college kids—could find themselves a niche and play a role in shaping the nation's future.

He gave a new image and likeness to the word "politician." There have been few if any like this former professor, who rejected virtually every political orthodoxy and tradition, spoke low, and avoided the carnival trappings of a political campaign whenever possible.

Yet in these very victories lay his ultimate political defeat by Hubert H. Humphrey in the convention Wednesday night.

It was the untested kids against the pros; pros who had not only been in the game a long time, but happened to hold the reins of U.S. political power at the moment.

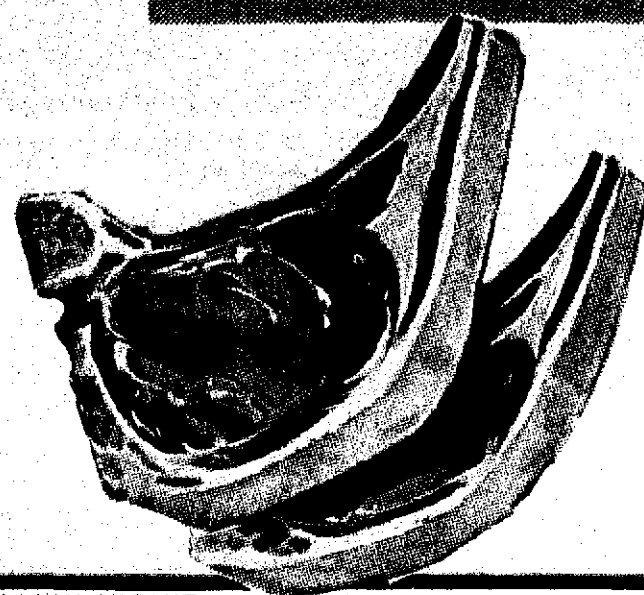

The Children's Crusade did have the pros looking back over their shoulders from time to time, wondering why McCarthy refused to lie down and die. But they never lost control of the way things operate in a political party so many decades old.

McCarthy lost, too, because in his 20 years in politics, he had never developed a political base, to which he could return for major support when the time came for the big move. He was an efficient senator, well-liked in Minnesota, but he had little patronage to give out, fewer political debts to collect.

McCarthy lost because he remained far out of the Democratic club in a year when the convention was deeply entrenched within it. There was a yawning generation gap between the McCarthyites and the party regulars.

McCarthy in Visit to Hurt Youths

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, visibly shaken, visited several hotel rooms Wednesday night that had been set aside for victims injured in antiwar demonstrations outside his headquarters hotel.

McCarthy had been on the 23rd floor of the Conrad Hilton Hotel watching the presidential nomination which he has sought for nine months slip from his reach on television.

Somebody told him that the injured were being brought to a suite of rooms eight floors below under the supervision of his close friend Dr. William Davidson.

McCarthy and his Secret Service agent followed by reporters immediately took the elevator down.

He stepped into one room, where a young man with a bandage on his knee said he would be okay and asked the Minnesotan what it all meant. His voice barely under control, McCarthy replied, "It's the way this movement will go on from here."

McCarthy has often said that if the Democratic party nominates Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the presidency it will bring widespread disaffection among young people interested in politics.

As he emerged from another temporary first aid room, where a young man with a mustache and a blue shirt covered with blood was sitting on a bed, a nurse in civilian clothes approached him.

The nurse tried to speak but burst into tears. McCarthy put his hand on her shoulder, and kept saying, "It'll be alright. I'm upstairs if you need me."

When photographers clustered around McCarthy looked up and said "Get out of the way fellows, get out. You don't have to see everything."

Then his voice rose to an angry shout, "Get the hell out of the way!"

Someone asked him to comment on what he had seen.

"You don't have to comment

Democratic Nomination Highlights

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Democratic nominee for president, was hailed Wednesday as "an extraordinary man for such an extraordinary responsibility."

Mayor Joseph Alloto of San Francisco, placing Humphrey's name in nomination, told the Democratic National Convention, "Now as he moves forward from a loyal member of the team to its captain, the full energy of his enormously versatile talents will seize this hour to shape the future we want."

"This is a man to lead our party. This is a man to lead our nation—to lead a nation of decency, a nation of dignity, a nation of peace, a nation that does honor to humanity..."

Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, nominating Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, called the Minnesotan "a different kind of evangelist—an evangelist of reason."

"The miracle of our times is the way the senator aroused the people of America with his logical, unemotional approach," said Hughes. "The people found Gene McCarthy for us. They found him; they follow him; they have urged him on us. He is more accurately the people's candidate than any other man in recent history."

George McGovern's name was brought to the convention by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, who described the South Dakota senator as "a man of insight, compassion and courage" who can bring a Vietnam peace and "end the division in the hearts of our people."

Ribicoff also said McGovern is "a man who contains foresight with a sense of history—a man who can shape the unending daily round of presidential decisions into a cohesive chain of progress... No matter what the results of this convention's deliberations... the United States has gained a new leader."

Game Producers Play for Big Stakes

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The future of television may be arriving on the night of Sept. 20, over NBC.

The entire television industry will be watching the network's new series, The Name of the Game, with more than the usual interest. This project is a new concept and, if it works, it could mark the beginning of a new era.

The Name of the Game is a 90-minute dramatic series. That, in itself, isn't new—The Virginian has been going along for years. But this one is really a series of almost-movies, tied together by only the flimsiest of threads.

There are three stars on The Name of the Game—Gene Barry, Tony Franciosa and Robert Stack. They will alternate from week to week. The unifying theme is that they all work for a large magazine publisher. Barry is the owner-publisher, Franciosa a roving correspondent and Stack the editor of a crime magazine.

Barry will probably make a brief appearance in the segments starring Franciosa and Stack. With that exception, and the usage of Susan Saint James in a continuing role, each episode will be entirely self-sufficient.

Universal, which is making the series, obviously hopes to recoup some of the cost by selling many—six or eight out of the original 24—as feature films in Europe. Insiders believe that the network sale alone will not be enough to defray the cost, which is estimated at between $400,000 and $500,000 each.

This makes it far and away the most expensive television series ever made. The actors are in awe of the way money is being spent—each episode has four or five high-priced guest stars, the sets are as good as most movies, the scripts are being written by experienced and costly movie writers.

"We had two scripts which weren't quite right," Bob Stack says. "So we postponed them. When I was doing The Untouchables, they would have gone ahead and tried to make the script work."

"We had a set that the producer didn't like. He ordered it rebuilt."

"Are these movies? It's a matter of semantics—I'd say it's about half again as good as an ordinary TV show. We shoot 12 days on each. I have a week off between them."

On the sound stages of Universal, often the three companies are shooting simultaneously. When I visited the sets, the Franciosa company wasn't working; they had wrapped up at 2 a.m. the night before.

But, on one stage, Stack was in a jail cell, interviewing Jessica Walter, as an accused murderer.

On another, Gene Barry was in a Berlin night club, drinking beer with Anne Francis while on a raised circular platform behind the bar, two girl wrestlers were knocking each other around.

In both cases, the sets were the same as you'd see on any movie sound stage. In fact, the Berlin night club set was more lavish than most, crowded with extras and what they call "atmosphere."

Nobody is sure how the thing will work. The public will be the deciding factor.

"The name of the game is rating points," says David Victor, producing the Stack shows. But everyone is watching with great interest, because there are some intriguing questions left to be answered.

The stars are happiest of all, and most hopeful. For them, this is a chance to do a series—with all its attendant financial benefits—and yet lead a more-or-less normal life.

"It gives me a chance to do a series and live a little," Barry says. "Only eight a year—and a week off between them. I hope it goes."

Worker's Claims Are Rejected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Workmen's Compensation Commission rejected Tuesday the claim of an employee of The Singer Co., for a back injury he said he received on the job in October, 1967.

Solunar Tables

By RICHARD ALDEN KNIGHT

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from Richard Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration. Use Central Daylight Saving time.

U.S. Envoy Killed in Guatemala

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemalan authorities pressed the hunt today for the killers of U.S. Ambassador John Gordon Mein, but there was no word of progress.

The assassins machine-gunned Mein Wednesday afternoon after boxing in his limousine on a main street of Guatemala City. The 54-year-old career diplomat was cut down as he tried to escape.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were "shocked and grieved" by the slaying believed to be the first assassination of a U.S. ambassador. Washington asked Guatemala for a full investigation.

President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro declared a 30-day state of siege and proclaimed three days of mourning. His decree expressed the "deep condolences of the government and people of Guatemala to the government and people of the United States."

Mendez in a statement to newsmen described the ambassador as a "sincere friend of Guatemala."

It was assumed that Mein was the victim of one of the extremist factions who have been warring in Guatemala for months. But there was no indication whether his assassins were from the ultraright or the ultraleft.

Embassy press attache Richard Knowles of Waterloo, Iowa, gave this account of the assassination:

Mein and his Guatemalan chauffeur were en route from the embassy's residence to the embassy when a car pulled in front of the limousine and a truck pulled up behind, preventing the ambassador's automobile from moving either way. Two men forced the chauffeur out of the limousine. Mein tried to flee, but a burst of machine-gun fire brought him down.

The attack occurred a few blocks from the spot where two American military men, Col. John Daniel Webber and Capt. Ernest A. Monrie, were slain in a similar attack last Jan. 16.

Mein was a veteran of diplomatic service in Europe, Asia and Latin America. He was named ambassador to Guatemala in 1965 after serving as deputy chief of mission in Rio de Janeiro. He leaves a widow and three children.

NEW YORK (AP) — Alan Arkin is an inwardly haunted man living in a golden shower.

Critics acclaim him as the best young acting talent of the decade, producers stand in line to offer him fat roles at fat prices. He can practically name it and it's his.

To the brooding, dark-haired actor his success while still on the sunny side of 35 is wildly marvelous and paradoxically comical, as he feels life itself.

"I love it," he said frankly. "Mostly because it gives me a wider choice of things to pick from."

"The disadvantage of success is that it robs you of illusions—the usual illusions about how wonderful everything would be if you were only successful."

"You discover that there is no peaches-and-cream fulfillment in the money itself. You find out that what Freud said is true—fulfillment lies in a man's being able to work and love."

Acting became Alan's career goal at the age of five. Today it stands for more than either fame or bread to him; it's also both an escape and a discovery. "It's like eating with me. The same way some people have to eat, I have to act. It's an additional basic necessity to me."

"Acting has a reward beyond the performance. It stretches me emotionally. I like the feeling it gives of reaching areas of myself that I would ordinarily have trouble reaching. And whatever I find belongs to me, I don't lose it."

Sensitive, courteous, compassionate toward others, Arkin is driven by an interior quest for

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey wins the Democratic presidential nomination in a violence-surrounded convention deeply divided on Vietnam war policy.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie and Ambassador Sargent Shriver apparently head a list of six possible choices for the vice presidential nomination.

Chicago police drive back 3,000 demonstrators attempting to storm the Conrad Hilton Hotel, convention headquarters.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy bucked the Democratic party establishment with unorthodox campaigning. His unusual tactics contributed to his defeat.

The star of another Kennedy blitz brightly on Democratic horizons despite the last brother's refusal to be drawn into the presidential contest this year.

The Democrats are far from united on Vietnam despite the defeat of a plank opposed by Humphrey.

The Associated Press poll came within four per cent of Humphrey's vote total.

President Johnson is pleased with the endorsement of his war policies and the selection of Humphrey. It is possible he may go to Chicago tonight.

Muskie and Shriver for Second Spot

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is the frontrunner to be Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey's runningmate, but Ambassador R. Sargent Shriver is also getting strong consideration, according to close associates of the vice president.

Humphrey, who held some discussions with party leaders even before his first ballot presidential triumph Wednesday night, continued consultations through the early morning hours in a 25th floor suite of the Conrad Hilton hotel.

Humphrey will put his selection before the Democratic convention tonight.

"The decision has not been made," press secretary Norman Sherman said early today, but close associates said that Muskie, the 6-foot-6, 54-year-old architect of his state's Democratic revival, was the front-runner.

At the same time there was speculation that the more glamorous Shriver was benefitting from events of the past 48 hours.

These included the evident magic aroused by the stillborn movement to draft Shriver's brother-in-law, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, for the presidential nomination, the street clashes PRAGUE (AP) — Leaders of Czechoslovakia's Communist party went ahead today with a slow modification of their liberal reforms. Opposition still was voiced to the capitulation to Moscow, but increasing numbers of people appeared to accept it as inevitable.

Premier Oldrich Cernik announced that the government had decided on temporary measures to restrict press freedom.

Czechoslovak Communist party leaders considered whether to cancel the election last week of an all-liberal party central committee, an election Moscow called illegal.

Cernik said the government would continue its liberal course as much as possible under the Soviet occupation. He appealed to workers and officials to get on with their jobs.

The National Assembly refused Tuesday to ratify the agreement reached by Czechoslovak and Soviet leaders in four days of negotiations in Moscow. It demanded that the government insist on a firm

Two Found Guilty in Taxi Killing

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP) — An all-male jury deliberated one hour Wednesday before finding two men guilty of first-degree murder in the June 3 death of a Little Rock taxicab driver.

The jury, composed of one Negro, made no recommendation on the sentence, thus automatically invoking the death penalty.

Albert Williamson, 20, of Little Rock and Robert Mosby, 22, of Redfield were convicted at the end of the 2½-day trial in the death of Ronald E. Lovelace, 30, of Little Rock.

All of the principals involved in the incident were Negroes. Prosecutor Robert Hardin of Benton told the jury in his closing remarks that the death of Lovelace was one of the most malicious, barbarous crimes ever committed.

Mrs. Bonita Lovelace, widow of the taxicab driver, was taken from the court room after becoming hysterical during a defense attorney's closing argument.

Humphrey Captures First Ballot Nomination in a Split Demo Convention

War Policy Leaves Party Divided

By EDMOND LeBRETON

Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — In spite of the defeat of a Vietnam platform plank opposed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic party is far from united on its war policy.

The vote Wednesday at the Democratic National Convention was 1,567 3/4 to 1,041 1/4 to defeat a minority report from the Platform Committee calling for an immediate halt in bombing of North Vietnam.

This constituted a strong margin of victory for the Humphrey position calling for conditions before halting the bombing or otherwise de-escalating the war. But the vote also demonstrated the large support of the antiwar forces at the convention and presumably in the party.

Moreover, the delegates favoring the bombing halt now demonstrated in defeat the emotional charge of their position.

Joined by recruits from the galleries, they staged a folk-singing, snake-dancing demonstration on the convention floor. State standards were draped black and one file of demonstrators carried a long crepe streamer. Folk singer Theodore Bikel of the New York delegation led a rendition of "We Shall Overcome" and marchers held hands, high, giving the victory sign.

One of the few Humphrey delegates who also favored the peace plank, Rep. Donald Fraser of Minnesota, said frankly, "I don't know what we do next."

He said Humphrey must make some move to reconcile the peace-now Democrats and added, "His vice presidential choice could be important."

Richard N. Goodwin, an aide to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy who served as floor manager for the minority plank, told a news conference the statement the majority adopted was "politically disastrous."

He said, however, that he would vote for Humphrey rather than Republican Richard M. Nixon— "not with much enthusiasm."

Sen. Gruening of Alaska Is Beaten

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Mike Gravel, an Anchorage real estate developer, apparently has put an end to the 35-year political career of Sen. Ernest Gruening, long-time Vietnam war critic.

With 373 of Alaska's 410 precincts reported, unofficial returns in their race for the Democratic senatorial nomination gave Gravel, 38, a lead of 16,820 to 14,354.

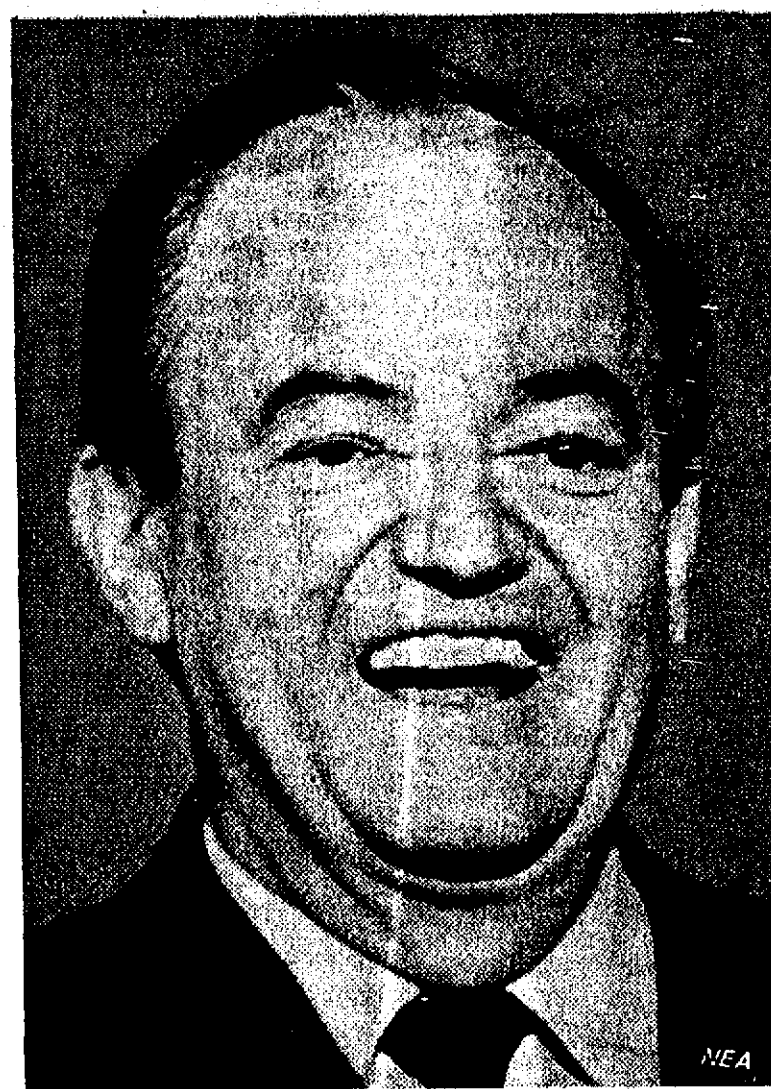

Gravel claimed victory, but Gruening, 81-year-old former newspaperman and magazine editor, said he would await final returns.

Still to be counted are an estimated 3,500 absentee ballots and results from small precincts in the 49th state's remote interior and Aleutian Islands. The absentee ballots are to be counted Friday. Results from the outlying precincts are not expected for days.

Gravel, former speaker of the Alaska House of Representatives, said he is not a hawk but believes that the United States must honor its Vietnam commitment.

U.S. Losses in Vietnan Up to 308

SAIGON AP — Heavy fighting across South Vietnam last week sent the number of American, South Vietnamese and enemy troops killed in action soaring to their highest toll so far this summer, U.S. headquarters announced today.

In beating back enemy offensives last week, 308 American troops were killed in combat and another 1,144 were wounded.

The number of U.S. troops killed was almost double that for each of the previous three weeks and was the highest since 324 were killed during the week ending June 15.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese shattered a two-month lull in the ground war last week with a series of fierce attacks that began along northwest invasion routes into Saigon and CHICAGO (AP) — Some 3,000 antiwar demonstrators and Chicago police battled beneath the windows of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, the Democratic National Convention headquarters, Wednesday night as Hubert H. Humphrey was receiving the party's presidential nomination across town.

Early today, as Illinois National Guardsmen formed a protective circle around the Hilton, some 600 dissident convention delegates and youths marched down Michigan Avenue. They carried candles and sang softly while the antiwar protesters slept in a park across the street from the hotel.

The International Amphitheatre, site of the convention and five miles distant, remained secure behind police guards and a barbed wire fence.

Tear gas filtered throughout the nation's largest hotel Wednesday night, even reaching the 25th-floor suite of Humphrey and the room of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Police used clubs in subduing the demonstrators, most of CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey talked over possible running mates with political friends today but put off making the choice close associates figure will be either Sen. Edmund S. Muskie or R. Sargent Shriver.

The vice president, a smashing winner of his party's top spot on the first ballot Wednesday night, slept late—until sometime after 10 a.m. today, Ted Van Dyke, an aide, said Humphrey probably would announce his selection in early afternoon.

Humphrey stayed up late to share the joys of victory with his family and, by telephone, with President Johnson, Mrs. Johnson and the two Johnson daughters. Richard M. Nixon, the man he will have to beat in November to win the White House, also phoned congratulations.

Humphrey then struck at the violence that has undercut his triumph, denouncing both "storm trooper tactics" of Chicago police and "rowdiness" on the convention floor by dissident delegates.

"Self-righteous minorities don't have a monopoly on the truth," he said in an interview taped early this morning and later televised. "I've seen far too much of it. I think it is about time to call a halt to it."

As he spoke, protesters of the way police have put down demonstrators marched with candles in their hand down the lakefront hotel row. Delegates joined them, including two Congressmen—William F. Ryan of New York and George E. Brown Jr. of California—and Richard N. Goodwin, former speechwriter for President John F. Kennedy.

In command all the way, Humphrey trampled the challenges of peace candidates Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and George S. McGovern to become the election opponent of Republican Richard M. Nixon.

The vice president's methodically obtained victory was greeted with mixed enthusiasm and apprehension by security-harassed delegates to this most guarded and restricted of all national conventions.

The selection of Humphrey promised to lay before the nation's voters a choice between President Johnson's domestic and foreign policies—which the vice president has backed solidly as a member of the administration team—and a proposed Nixon program that varies more in details than essentials.

The final countdown, with 1,312 votes needed for the nomination was:

Humphrey 1,761 3/4.
McCarthy 601.
McGovern 146 1/2.

The Rev. Channing Phillips of the District of Columbia, Negro who ran as a favorite son of black delegates, 67 1/2.

Humphrey prepared to complete the ticket today from an announced list that still included McCarthy as a possible runningmate despite the Minnesota senator's rejection of such suggestions.
